Connecticut Water Company Proudly Supports Women & Family Life Center

GUILFORD, Conn. — Feb. 15, 2018 — Connecticut Water Company is proud to announce that it has helped fund the Women & Family Life Center’s Open Door project through the Connecticut Neighborhood Assistance Act Tax Credit Program. Located in Guilford, the Women & Family Life Center is an independent, nonprofit organization that provides support, education, and referral services to help women and families face challenges and transitions.

Peggy Britt, executive director of the Women & Family Life Center, stated, “Funds raised for the Open Door project will be used to help refurbish the center and to improve and expand program capacity and additional referral resources. We are fortunate to have such support for our center through the Neighborhood Assistance Act program. The donation from Connecticut Water Company, combined with other donations, makes it possible for us to better serve women and families in transition.”

Dan Meaney, Connecticut Water’s director of corporate communications, noted, “Connecticut Water and its employees appreciate the opportunity to assist the Women & Family Life Center through the Neighborhood Assistance Act. Guilford is one of the communities Connecticut Water is privileged to serve, and we are pleased to be able to support the center and its mission of service to the shoreline community.”

About the Women & Family Life Center

The Women & Family Life Center is an independent, nonprofit organization that provides support, education, and referral services to help women and families face challenges and transitions. Services at the center are available to women and families from any town, though it serves primarily Branford, Guilford and Madison. Most of the center’s programs are offered free of charge, and scholarships are available for those that require a fee. The center provides a safe place to face change, challenge or crisis.

About Connecticut Water Company

Connecticut Water is a public water utility regulated by the Connecticut Public Utilities Regulatory Authority, and it has more than 93,000 customers across the state. The company and its employees care deeply about the communities they are privileged to serve, and they are dedicated to being an integral part of those communities.
